A COLD WAVE.

We told you it was coming. Now we wonder how many hundreds got up shivering this morning—just because they did the easy thing and put it off. This is only a mild sample of what you'll get later. Just get busy today.

GET A HOT STOVE

One that will stay hot day and night without watching; one that wont send you to the poorhouse to keep it going. The Titus kind just do the thing they're built to do—raise the temperature to the "Comfy" point inside. They don't send the heat up chimney out doors in an attempt to change the climate. Titus heaters keep the coal men away longer than other kinds do—pleased to know that, we know.

POLITICAL INTRIGUES OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

Mexican Press Scores Machinations of the Government.

Searching for Allies and Accomplices in Crime Against Humanity.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 1.—"The political intrigues of the White House against our country have entered a period of apparent inertia recently, President Wilson showing himself reserved, undecided and expectant, like one who prepares a most telling blow," says El Pais in an editorial article on the situation today. It continues: The cable, however, in spite of its laconicism, gives a glimpse of the machinations of the government at Washington, which are summarized as follows:

"President Wilson has not resolved to proceed frankly and openly against Mexico, doubtless because he comprehends the colossal injustice of his cause, but he searches for allies and accomplices in the crime against humanity, plotted in the White House, of annihilating and despoiling us as in the time of Santa Anna. To this end send all the efforts of the Puritan President and we know by recent despatches that an effort is being made to bring about a combined diplomatic movement by at least some of the European powers to sanction acts which the American government may attempt against Mexico.

"It is said that France, England and Germany will aid President Wilson in the work, either by interventino or through Carranza, of obliging Provision President Huerta to renounce the high post he occupies. We are still obliged to believe the friendly powers which voluntarily and openly recognized General Huerta as president of Mexico will not aid the United States either morally or materially, because this would be the equivalent of a flagrant contradiction, at variance with international practice and the decorum of honorable government."

WOULD NOT GIVE VIEWS.

Diaz Silent as to United States Attitude Toward Mexico.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—"None should forget that Mexico is now a very great country and must be considered by all as such," General Porfirio ered by all as such," said General Porfirio Diaz today, when questioned in Paris about the situation. He would not, however, give his views in regard to the attitude of the United States replying to a question regarding the Mexican situation.

"I am not going to discuss the policy of the United States or the message that President Wilson is going to read Monday," he said.

The former dictator of Mexico said that if General Felix Diaz had followed his advice he would not have attempted to land at Vera Cruz.

NO CHANGE IN MEXICO.

Bryan Confers With Wilson Before Leaving for Maryland.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Secretary Bryan, after a two days' absence campaigning in New Jersey, went over the Mexican despatches today before leaving to address Maryland voters. He said there was no change in the situation. He conferred with President Wilson before going to Rockville, Hagerstown and Frederick, Maryland.

FOUR POINTS AHEAD.

Harvard Defeats Cornell in a Lively Cross-Country Run.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 1.—Harvard defeated Cornell in a lively cross-country run today, by a total score of 51 to 55. The weather and course conditions were excellent.

The individual winner was J. S. Hoffmire of Cornell, who led the pack in the last three miles and finished in the fast time of 31 minutes, 47 2-5 seconds. He was 300 yards ahead of the next harrier, Captain R. St. B. Boyd of Harvard, who finished in 32:24 4-5. A long field strung out behind.

The race was the first contested over the new Belmont course of five and three quarters miles. Blackman of Harvard set the pace during the first mile and then fell back, but finished third. Captain Boyd went to the front in the second mile, only to be passed in the third mile by Hoffmire. The Cornellian ran strong, taking hill and dale with an even stride, that kept him always to the fore.

Harvard won by placing five men among the first seven at the finish. The first seven men of each team counted in the scoring, this rule eliminating Captain Kingsley of Cornell, who finished eighth of his team.

The summary: Hoffmire, Cornell, 31:47 2-5; Boyd, Harvard, 32:24 4-5; Blackman, Harvard, 32:26 3-5; Siedon, Cornell, 32:38; MacLure, Harvard, 32:48 4-5; Southworth, Harvard, 32:52; Stone, Harvard, 33:09 1-5.

YALE MEETS DEFEAT.

Princeton Wins Annual Dual Cross-Country Meet.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 1.—Princeton today won the annual dual cross-country meet from Yale by a score of 21 to 34, the first five men in each team to score counting in the total. Captain Morrison of Princeton led the field until the last hundred yards, when he dropped back and let his teammate, Barnett, finish first in 32 minutes, 5 seconds. The first five men finished in the following order: H. V. Barnett, Princeton; D. S. Morrison, Princeton; C. E. Clark, Yale; M. S. Hayes, Princeton; G. L. Stafford, Yale.

EFFORTS TO OPERATE STREET CARS GIVEN UP.

Strike Breakers Expected in Indianapolis from Chicago.

Police Unable to Cope With the Men and Their Sympathizers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—After a morning of rioting, the street car company practically gave up all efforts to operate cars at noon today. It was stated that an attempt to establish service would be made this afternoon, when 50 strike breakers were expected to arrive from Chicago.

The strike, which was started at 11 o'clock last night, was marked by continual rioting in the down-town district this forenoon. Motormen and conductors were dragged from their cars, trolleys were broken, trolley poles pulled off and the air which controlled the brakes was released from the containers under the cars. The police were unable to hold the crowd in check as it moved from one corner to another in the down-town district. Merchants said business was at a standstill. The police expect more serious trouble this afternoon if the cars are manned by professional strike breakers.

INCOME TAX LAW TROUBLE.

Much Confusion Caused in New York Financial Districts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The inauguration of the income tax law was the cause of much confusion in the financial district today. Institutions and banking houses which act as fiscal agents for railroads and other corporations were busy receiving and rejecting coupons, the latter course being taken in cases where certificates of ownership were lacking. The Treasury Department, according to Wall Street, has several times reversed itself in its regulations.

At the house of J. P. Morgan & Co., fiscal agents for many large corporations, it was said that it would take at least a month to pay off all the coupons presented for payment, whereas such payments used to be made within a day or two of presentation.

At the Chase National Bank, which has several thousand out-of-town correspondents for whom it collects coupons payable in this city, it was said coupons are not being accepted for deposit but only for collection. It was required that certificates accompanying the coupons state whether the bonds which they represent were taxable or exempt.

WERE BEHIND IN TAXES.

Petition to Restore Names to Cranston's Voting List Before Court.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 1.—A petition to restore 108 names of voters to the voting list of the city of Cranston was presented in the superior court today. The voters were recently stricken from the lists by the city council because it is alleged they failed to pay their taxes before a certain time limit. Cranston is the only city in the state having an election this year.

THOMAS HOPE APPOINTED.

United States Marshal Until Richards's Nomination is Confirmed.

PROVIDENCE Nov. 1.—Thomas Hope, deputy United States commissioner, was today appointed United States marshal until the nomination of Captain John J. Richards to that office is confirmed by the Senate. The appointment was made at the request of United States marshal Daniel R. Bellou, who is desirous of giving up the office because of ill health.

ELEVATOR ROPE BREAKS.

Employe of Providence Warehouse Crushed by a Counter Weight.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 1.—John M. McTague, an employe of a department store warehouse was crushed to death today by a counter weight of an elevator. McTague and Michael Busted, another employe, were riding on the freight elevator when the rope holding the weight broke and the mass of metal, weighing many tons, fell. Busted jumped clear of the weight and escaped without injury.

World Series of Nine Games Favored by Ban Johnson.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—World series base ball contests of nine games, at a reduction in the present scale of prices charged for admission, are favored by Ban B. Johnson, president of the American League and member of the National Commission.

WILLIAM CALDWELL DEAD.

Missed Massacre of Custer's Force as He Was Sent Out for Aid.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Nov. 1.—William Caldwell, aged 66, who missed the massacre of General Custer's force on Little Big Horn because he was sent to General Reno with a message, is dead here. Caldwell, who was 18 years old at the time of Sitting Bull's slaughter of Custer's army, was one of two men who had been sent out with messages for aid.

Prince Ernest August Assumes Dukedom of Brunswick.

Differences Between Hohenzollern and Guelph Families Settled.

BRUNSWICK, Germany, Nov. 1.—The government of the Duchy of Brunswick, which has been without a reigning duke since 1884, was assumed today by the young Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, who May 24 married Princess Victoria Luise, only daughter of the German emperor and empress. The differences between the two princely families of Hohenzollern and Guelph have thus been settled, for the new duke, in a declaration issued today, promised unswerving loyalty to the German empire and emperor, and to the federated rulers of Germany. He thus implicitly, although not actually, renounced his pretensions to the throne of the kingdom of Hanover, annexed to Prussia in 1866, when it allied itself with Austria against Prussia.

Prince Ernest August's father, the Duke of Cumberland, the rightful heir to the kingdom of Hanover, as well as to the dukedom of Brunswick, has steadfastly refused to renounce his claims to the succession to Hanover and has therefore not been permitted to reign as Duke of Brunswick. He has always lived in exile in Austria. Since 1884 the Duchy of Brunswick has been under a regency.

The complete formal transfer of the sovereignty and the state entry into the duchy of the young duke and duchess are to take place November 3 and this will be an occasion for spectacular display.

MEETS ROLLING SEAS.

Battleship Fleet Still 1,650 Miles Distant from Gibraltar.

ON BOARD United States Battleship Wyoming, at Sea, by Wireless Telegraphy, via Cape Race, Nov. 1.—The battleship fleet on its way to Mediterranean ports has encountered rolling seas, blown up by fresh southerly winds. The vessels this morning had 1,650 miles more to steam before reaching their first calling port, Gibraltar.

TRIAL BOARD SATISFIED.

Texas Returns to Newport News After Meeting All Requirements.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Nov. 1.—After meeting all requirements of her contract, despite an accident to one of her engines which delayed the trials off Rockland, Maine, four days, Dreadnought Texas returned today to her builders. Members of the trial board expressed satisfaction with the performance of the Texas, which made 22.77 knots on her standardization run, an excess of 1.71 knots over the contract speed.

ASQUITH AGAIN ATTACKED.

Premier and Companions Victims of Suffragettes Near Sterling.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Nov. 1.—Premier Asquith was attacked today by militant suffragetes, armed with dog whips, while he was driving near Sterling in an automobile, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Violet Asquth, and Sir John Graham, a Scottish justice of the peace. The automobile was passing through the village of Plean, five miels from Falkirk, when it ran into a suffragette ambush. The "wild women", under cover of shower of papers, rushed at the car and belabored the premier and his companions. They then as suddenly disappeared before the police car, following that of the premier, had reached the scene. The victims of the outrage were more frightened than hurt.

MORRIS RETURNED.

Premier of Newfoundland Re-Elected to Colonial Legislature.

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Nov. 1. Sir Edward Morris, premier of Newfoundland, was re-elected to the colonial legislature in the elections of Tuesday, his opponents conceded today. Premier Morris's two colleagues in St. John's west district also were returned. Their majorities, as conceded by opposition leaders, average about 1,000 each.

PROFESSOR APOLOGIZES.

Dr. Conrad of Georgetown and Caleb Powers in Dramatic Scene.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Law students at Georgetown University were telling today of a dramatic scene in a classroom last night in which Dr. P. Holmes Conrad, professor of law, and Caleb Powers, the Kentucky Congressman were the actors. In a lecture to the post-graduate class Dr. Conrad was denouncing public sympathy for criminals and declared that some, through a mistaken public sentiment were carried to places of power when released from prison. "Who was that man in Kentucky who killed another and was sent to Congress?" asked the professor, of the class to illustrate his point.

During the hush that immediately fell over the room Caleb Powers, a student sitting in the front row, rose to his feet with perfect composure and in a clear voice said "I am that man, doctor; I was not guilty."

Dr. Conrad apologized, continued his lecture and afterward made a formal apology to Powers, saying he had not known the Congressman was a member of his class.

Powers spent eight years, three months and three days in Kentucky prisons fighting for his life. He was charged with complicity in the murder of Governor Goebel.

THE KIEFF TRIAL.

Accusation Against the Jews Without Cause or Excuse.

[New York Tribune.]

The Kieff trial is chiefly significant as a reminder of the narrow margin which separates some "civilized" countries from barbarism. This persecution of the Jews on a charge which is both monstrously and absurdly false is at par with the persecution of Christians by the Romans in the days of Justin Martyr on the practically identical charge that they used human sacrifices in the Eucharist and with the mad riotings of Chinese against "foreign devils" in recent years for a similar cause. There is no more cause or excuse for this accusation against the Jews than there was for those against Christians.

The hideous libel was first uttered against Jews at Norwich, in the dark days of King Stephen's reign. It has since been repeated many times, chiefly in eastern Europe. But there is probably no more groundless calumny in the world, none that has been supported with less shadow of plausibility and none that has been more invariably and completely pilloried as false, even by the religious antagonists of those against whom it has been directed. For Frank, the author of perhaps the most convincing vindication of the Jews, was a Roman Catholic priest, while McCaul, Strack, Delitzsch and other non-Jews have written powerfully to the same effect. In support of the accusation there has never been one respectable writer.

It is unhappily not surprising that the ignorant and superstitious populace of the Russian provinces should now and then revive the monstrous thing, just as voodooism prevails in the recesses of Hayti and juju is still potent in the Guinea hinterland. The most painful feature of the case is that the Russian government gives it countenance by prosecuting suits against Jews for this cause instead of proceeding against their accusers. It is notorious that these charges are usually trumped up by miscreants whose design is thus to incite "pogroms," in which they will have an opportunity to plunder Jewish shops and to commit still more heinous outrages, and who to that end play upon the passions of the most ignorant and degraded elements of the poulation. That important officers of the Russian government should periodically lend themselves and the name of the government to such infamies makes us feel that the world has not yet wholly emerged from the age of Nero.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Mr. and Mrs. John W. McCartney of "Slate Hill Crest" were surprised by St. Mary's Choir Guild, the members coming prepared with refreshments. The guild is arranging for a harvest supper at the home of Mrs. I. Lincoln Sherman.

Bishop Rowe is expected to speak at the churches of Holy Cross and St. Mary's early in December.

Ice was formed the thickness of a window pane early this morning.

Miss Mary L. Hart, who is taking a nurse's course at the Boston Homoeopathic Hospital, was guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Hart, Friday.

The Peabody School flag-staff is down for a thorough painting. It is 43 feet high with a gilded ball at the top, and one of the tallest and finest poles in the town.

The hot-air furnace for the town hall is expected from the Dighton foundry next week and will be installed by experts from that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Peabody entertained the Epworth League Friday evening at its weekly cottage service, at their home on Prospect avenue. There was an unusually good attendance. The leader, Miss Ellen E. Smith, conducted the subject, "Are we training ourselves to serve with scientific efficiency?"

Gates and other portable property were changed about Friday evening by the Hallowe'en pranks of the young people.

THIRTY DEGREES BELOW ZERO.

[Outing.]

Do you know how cold 30 below zero is, with the wind blowing a gale and the world asmoke with driving, stinging snow? Well, it was at least that cold outside, and inside it was so cold that while we burned our palms over the big log fires the frost gathered white on the backs—so cold that even though we scorched our mitts over the fire we could not thaw both sides at once; so cold our deerskin moccasins and leggings froze so stiff we could not bend our ankles, though our feet remained dry and warm; so cold our outside clothes froze as hard as boards and rattled when we walked.

GREENHEART TIMBER.

Isthmian Canal Commission Seeks Genuine Wood for Marine Work.

Clayton D. Mall of the United States forest service has sailed from New York for British Guiana to inspect greenheart timber to be used in the construction of docks and other marine works for the Panama canal. He goes at the request of the Isthmian canal commission, in order that the engineers may be sure that they are getting genuine greenheart timber, for which a number of inferior substitutes are offered.

Genuine greenheart has the reputation of being the most resistant wood to the attack of marine borers and to decay. Borers are especially bad in tropical waters. The wood is, in addition, hard, heavy and durable, and not subject to damage from impact and wear. Indisputable records show that the best grades of this wood surpass iron and steel as to lasting qualities in contact with salt water. It has been known and used since 1769. Logs have remained intact under water for 100 years. Lock gates in English canals have been made of it for years, and the only limit of their durbility so far has been the length of service of their iron bolts and fastenings, which usually can be renewed without much trouble. Greenheart in Liverpool lock gates built in 1856, removed to allow a deepening and widening of the ship channel in 1894, was used over again when the gates were re-constructed. The sills and fenders of the lock gates at Panama will be made of greenheart, and much of the docks will be constructed of the same material.

Nansen's ship, the Fram, and the Antarctic vessels, Discovery, used by one of the Scott expeditions, and the Gauss, used by Drygalski, were all planked with greenheart.

The exceedingly great durability of the wood is said to be due, at least in part, to the presence of an alkaloid, which is used as a substitute for cinchona, the basis of quinine.

A number of other woods which grow with greenheart in the tropical forests of the Guianas resemble it so closely that they are likely to deceive even an expert. They have many of the qualities of the genuine timber, but in a lesser degree. Some are quite inferior, and it is essential that they should be avoided. In order that the canal commission may be sure of the right wood, it asked the forest service to assist in an investigation of the greenheart situation in British Guiana, and Mr. Mell's present trip is a result of that request.

From the isthmus of Panama Mr. Mell will go directly to Demerara, British Guiana, the principal port of export for greenheart. He will be accompanied by a member of the commission, and will see all the operations of lumbering in order that the true greenheart may be selected and identified without possibility of error. He will ascertain where the genuine can be obtained in sufficient quantities and right sizes, find out what substitutes are to be avoided, and prepare specifications which, incorporated in purchase contracts, will eliminate everything but genuine greenheart.

TO AID WOMEN WORKERS.

President's Wife Seeks to Better Conditions in Government Offices.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson has taken an active interest in the betterment of conditions under which girls and women work in the various government departments. It has leaked out that she made a tour through the big government printing office without revealing her identity, and thought the women workers did not have sufficient space in the recreation or rest rooms. She is said to have urged the President to help improve conditions.

Mrs. Wilson also is urging Postmaster General Burleson to improve the mail bag repair department of the postoffice. She recently visited the establishment and is said to have become convinced that more precautions ought to be taken to prevent tuberculosis and other disease germs tuberculosis ing those who work on the bags.

A lively little sequel to Mrs. Wilson's visit also cropped out. When Public Printer Ford heard of Mrs. Wilson's visit he immediately discharged H. E. Terry, the messenger who conducted Mrs. Wilson through the building, on the ground that he had not brought the President's wife to headquarters.

Terry explained that he asked Mrs. Wilson to accompany him to Ford's office but Mrs. Wilson demurred, saying she wished to be treated as any other visitor and wanted no special attentions. Ford, however, maintained that Terry's failure to make known the visit of the President's wife was a breach of discipline.

When the story spread around the Capitol there were several hurried telephone calls to the White House. Mrs. Wilson took a hand in the proceedings and after Secretary Tumulty had given some directions to the printing office, Terry was promptly put back on his job.

ROMAN SCULPTURE.

Eugenie Sellers Strong First Foreign Woman to Accept Appointment.

Mrs. S. Arthur Strong (Eugenie Sellers) is the first foreign woman to accept the appointment of the Archaeological Institute of America, as the Charles Eliot Norton memorial lecturer on the James Loeb Foundation. She will deliver her course this afll. Her predecessors were David G. Hogarth, of the Ashmolean Museum, Oxford (1909-10), on "Hittite Discoveries in Relation to Early Greek History" (illustrated); John L. Myres, of the University of Oxford (1909-10), on "Cyprus and the Prehistoric Age of the Mediterrancan" (illustrated); Casper Rene Gregory, of the University of Leipzig (1911-12), on "Mount Sinai: Its Monasteries and Manuscripts," and Franz Cumont, director of the Royal Museum at Brussels on "Roman Eschatology Illustrated by Monuments and Inscriptions" (illustrated).

Mrs. Strong is a recognized authority on Roman sculpture, and her lectures will be chiefly in this field. The principal lecture is entitled, "Art and Empire: the Influence of Roman Imperialism on Later Antique Sculpture." Other titles are "The Symbolism of the After-Life in Later Roman Sculpture: Illustrated from Roman Tombstones," and "Antique Terracotta Sculpture: the collection of terracottas from the ancient temples of Latium, in the new wing of the Museo di Papa Giulio, Rome." All the lectures are illustrated with the stereopticon.

Eugenie Sellers Strong was educated in France by the Sisters of St. Paul, and at Girton College, Cambridge. She received the honorary degree of LL. D. from St. Andrew's in 1907, the degree of Litt. D. from Dublin in 1907, and was elected life-fellow of Girton College in 1910. Mrs. Strong has lectured on "Greek Art and Archaeology" at the British and South Kensington Museums; delivered the Hermione lectures at the Alexandra College, Dublin, in 1904; organized the exhibition of Greek art at the Burlington Fine Arts Club in 1903; and has been assistant director of the British School of Archaeology in Rome since 1909.

Mrs. Strong is the author of "Roman Sculpture from Augustus to Constantine," and "Art in Rome;" is the English editor of G. Schuchardt's "Schliemann's Excavations;" Furtwangler's "Masterpieces of Greek Sculpture," and Wickhoff's "Roman Art," and brought out the Latin text, with notes, historical introduction and translation (Miss K. Jex Blake being joint translator) of Books 34-36, of Pliny's Natural History.

WORTH KNOWING!

The greatest speed so far attained in aviation is 118 miles an hour, made by J. Vedrinnes at Rheims, France, September 27, 1913. The greatest distance traveled without stop, 447 miles, made made by G. Fourny at Buc, France, September 8, 1912, and the greatest altitude reached was 17,878 feet, by G. Legagnoux, over France September 17, 1912.

PERSONALS.

....Professor Willard C. Fisher, formerly of the Wesleyan University faculty, has been appointed lecturer on economics at Harvard University for the current college year.

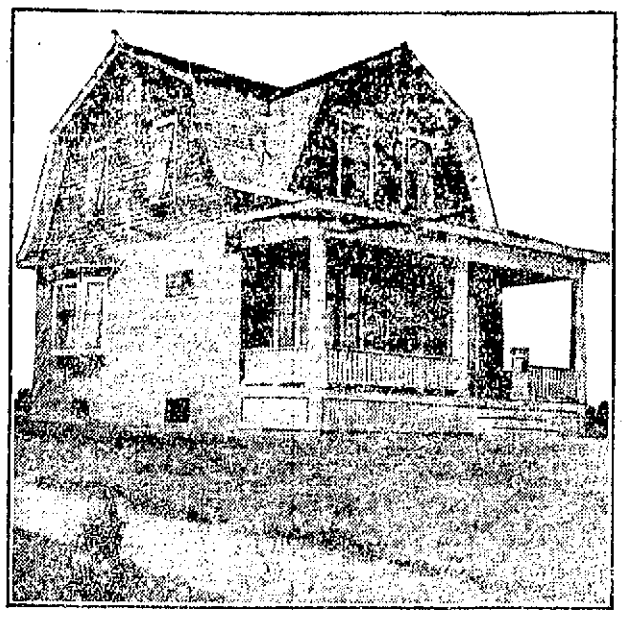

....The committee of the Social Museum, in anticipation of the approaching visit to Buenos Ayres of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, has issued a manifesto to the people, inviting them to take part in the festivities during his stay. The manifesto characterizes Colonel Roosevelt as a great democrat, whose existence is a dynamic force which adds in the maintenance of social and political doctrines.

....Brigadier General Charles J. Allen (retired) is suffering from bruises and severe shock sustained in a collision with an automobile a few days ago. It is not believed that he is seriously hurt. The officer, who is 64 years old, was on his way to his hotel in Washington, when a big touring car struck him just as he stepped from a curbing. The chauffeur hurried him to a hospital. General Allen declined to permit the arrest of the autoist.

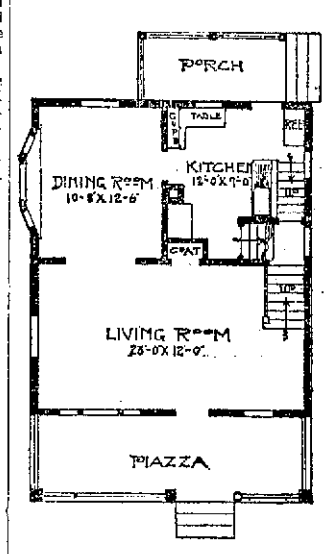

....The will of King George of Greece, disposing of his large Danish properties, was opened Friday at Copenhagen by the executors, the Greek consul and King Christian's secretary, Herr Krieger. The beautiful old summer castle, Gurrohus, goes to Prince George of Greece, who will settle in Denmark with his wife, Princess Marie Bonaparte. Another summer residence goes to Prince Christophores, and one palace in Copenhagen to Prince Andreas. King George's main palace, next to Amalienborg, the Danish royal palace, is bequeathed to his four sons jointly. This building is occupied by the supreme court of Denmark and contains some famous Gobelin tapestries.

FULLER'S EARTH.

Principal Use in Bleaching and Clarifying of Fats, Greases and Oils.

A report on fuller's earth by Jefferson Middleton of the United States Geological Survey, has been published as an advance chapter from Mineral Resources for 1912. The value of the fuller's earth mined in 1912 in the United States was $305,522, and Florida was the principal producer.

The principal use of fuller's earth in this country is in the bleaching, clarifying, or filtering of fats, greases and oils. The common practice with mineral oils is to dry the earth carefully after it has been ground to 20 to 60 mesh and run it into long cylinders, through which the crude, black mineral oils are allowed to percolate slowly. As a result the oil that first comes out is perfectly water white and much thinner than that which follows. The oil is allowed to continue percolating through the earth until the color reaches a certain maximum shade.

With the vegetable oils the process is radically different. The oil is heated beyond the boiling point of water in large tanks, from 5 to 10 per cent of its weight of fuller's earth is then added, and the mixture is vigorously stirred and then filtered off through bag filters. The coloring matter remains with the earth, the filtered oil being of a pale straw color, provided the operation has been conducted with sufficient care.

Baked Sweet Potatoes, Southern Style

Boil the potatoes until barely done, then skin and cut in half-inch slices. Fill a deep baking dish with alternate layers of the potatoes, bits of butter and a sprinkling of sugar. Bake in a moderate oven until the butter and sugar form a rich syrup, in which the potatoes cook until they look almost clear; then allow them to brown.

Brown Betty

Mix together one pint of finely crumbled stale bread, a pinch of salt, three to four tablespoonfuls of sugar, according to acidity of the apples, a half teaspoonful of cinnamon, a pinch of cloves. Melt and stir in two large tablespoonfuls of butter. Pare, core and chop or cut fine two heaping cupfuls of tart apples in alternate layers in a buttered pudding dish, having crumbs on top. If the apples are not juicy, add two or three tablespoonfuls of cold water. Cover and bake in a moderate oven until the apples are soft, then uncover and brown the top. Serve hot or cold with cream and sugar.

THE TWO QUESTS.

[Ida Aliene Adams, in Christian Herald.]

O little brother, with wondering eyes,
Which is the road to Paradise?
For I have fared o'er a weary way,
And I seek its peace at the close of day.
Methinks on your face heaven's light still lies.
Can you show me the road to Paradise?

'Tis a short time since I wandered among
His trees and flowers. The songs there sung
By the angel host are echoing still
In my heart and soul. But I pray you, will
You show me the way that I now must go,
For I'm seeking the truths that all men know.

Oh, little brother, 'tis rough and long
For tender feet to travel on;
And the truths men know will not compare
With the secrets you and the angels share.
For his soul must bow and his heart must break
Who will travel man's road for truth's own sake.

For the way that's weary I have a song;
I'll soon forget that the road is long.
The angels' secrets will help me know
The truths of men, as I journey. So
Come you with me where the sunlight lies.
We will find us the way to Paradise.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1913.

EXCLUSIVE ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE FOR NEWPORT.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station.

NEWPORT'S FIRE PROTECTION NEEDS.

The Daily News said repeatedly last spring that for increased efficiency and more economy in the fire department the thing needed was a triple combination in the house of Steamer I. It also pointed out that the two Chemical companies should be consolidated, in order to run it, and thus no more permanent men would be needed. In addition, the News said the purchasing of an automobile hose and chemical for up town would only mean the purchase of similar apparatus for down town. This has proved true.

Now the Board of Trade says there should be a pumper for the centre of the city. That will mean, if things continue along the old lines, five or six more permanent men, at more than $1,000 each a year. It is easy to see where, if the "centre" is taken care of by this plan, $6,000 or $7,000 will be added to the annual appropriation.

The News contends that its plan would have saved the city money and the protection of the city in general would have been improved.

FIRE PREVENTION DAYS.

The idea of a fire prevention day, which is becoming popular in this country, ought to be commended, but like the cleaning-up days the observance should not be confined to a single 24 hours at infrequent intervals but continued through the year with but brief intervals. These two special days which have been inaugurated recently in many places are virtually of the same character and their fields of operation overlap if they are not quite identical. Each has for its object the removal of refuse dangerous to a community if allowed to accumulate. It may be dangerous because liable to start fires which will consume valuable property or because it is a menace to the health of the people. In either case the refuse is an eyesore and a detriment to the aesthetic interests of the community and ought to be removed frequently.

We know something about this matter in this city, for we have had abundant proof that refuse is allowed to accumulate here and we have had some clean up days. These might as well have been called fire prevention days, as the object in holding them was to prevent fire from the deposits of rubbish as well as to prevent disease. Here these special days were made to include both purposes and they probably would be thus inclusive in most places. They worked well here so far as they went, but did not extend far enough and were not made frequent enough to accomplish all which needed to be done. This is a proof of the statement that it is not sufficient to hold such special days infrequently, but they must be observed often. Better still, every day should be a cleanup or a fire prevention day. In no other way can a community be safe from contagion by the accumulation of refuse injurious to the health or from fire by the heaping up of rubbish dangerous to property.

It is now some time since those clean-up days were held here, and it would not be amiss to set apart others. It may be that they are more needed in summer than in winter, but they ought to be considered at any time. Because the summer has hardly passed yet so far as warm weather is concerned, and some of the evils which follow in the train of heated periods are possible and even threatening, still Why not take up the matter again, and this time if it is desired to vary the occasion call it a fire prevention day? Even if so designated it need not be confined to the removal of rubbish liable to cause fires any more than it was necessary to confine the clean up days to the removal of rubbish dangerous to health. It is certain that there is not much in a name and it matters little what the special day is called so long as the work is done which is needed and which does not seem to be done without some movement of this sort.

Now that these days are becoming popular all over the country Newport should not allow itself to be surpassed in its efforts along this line. It has done well already to a certain extent, but has not completed all that ought to be done. Moreover, this is a work which will constantly need to be renewed with energy and devotion. It is an excellent means of making and keeping a community safe from disease and fire, and at the same time beautiful and attractive to visitors and residents. These features are a part of the assets of this city to a greater extent than in the case of most communities, since our chief stock in trade is that the city is beautiful and healthful. We must keep it so if we desire to maintain the reputation we have, and must make it clean and beautiful and healthful not only in the principal sections but all over its area, and not only on the main streets but in the back alleys and the rear yards. There should be more clean-up and fire prevention days all over the country, and there are sure to be more as the idea spreads. There should be more of them here also, and there must be if our fair city is to retain its high standing among the communities of the country, and indeed of the world, for beauty, cleanliness and healthfulness.

THE UNDERWOOD FLAG DISCRIMINATION.

As soon as the Underwood tariff became a law the Treasury and State departments were confronted with the problem of applying it and the results likely to ensue. The absolute impracticability of the scheme was so apparent that there were early reports of an attempt to pass a bill repealing the so-called flag discrimination. Underwood stoutly resisted the idea, insisted that the discrimination would work wonders for the American merchant marine, and refused to listen to the suggestion of a repealing measure.

The President said nothing and, in the language of the street, "sawed wood." He let the several departments wrestle with the difficulty. The Treasury Department was satisfied that under existing treaties it would be obliged to allow the same rebate to ships of countries which make no discrimination against us that is made to our own shipping; then there would be no discrimination in favor of our vessels, but the duties on almost everything would be reduced five per cent. John Bassett Moore, the diplomatic expert of the State Department, could make nothing else out of the law and the treaties, and now the Attorney General has taken the same view. The three departments which have to do with the matter agree that treaties forbid the discrimination as to nearly all our commerce.

Even if the treaties do not restrain us, we should merely invite retaliation. France, which has no treaty with us covering the ground, served notice upon our government months ago that under a long standing law of the country the government would be obliged to retaliate against any discrimination against French shipping in our ports. Treaty or no treaty, any country whose shipping was discriminated against in our ports would discriminate against ours in its ports. Then how much better off should we be? If our imports came only in our own ships, but our exports went only in the ships of the countries whither the goods were sent, our shipping would be no better off than it is now. It would be worse off, for it would cross the ocean one way empty.

CONVULSIONS OF THE COMMERCIAL WORLD.

All countries are so closely knit together in commerce and finance that any serious trouble in one is usually felt in others. The European markets are influenced by trade conditions here and in Bombay and in Buenos Ayres, while ours are instantly responsive in greater or less degree to the upward and downward movements of European monetary centres.

Our political financiers seldom pay any attention to this, and sometimes our financial politicians do not. Many of our eminent statesmen—we will hardly venture to say how close to the very apex of the government—are convinced that the panic of 1907 was precipitated by financial bandits. Yet every one who is acquainted with the finances of the world knows that the European markets were seriously disturbed before ours were. We had a more acute attack, for which we are probably indebted to our currency system, but the financial disorders of that year could not have been due to local causes, because they extended over the whole commercial world.

There has been a convention of investment bankers in Chicago and the president attributed the low prices of the very best securities to the determination of the Taft and Wilson administrations "to irritate and regulate business," and the feeling among investors that the future would be worse than the past. We presume that none of our Presidents could be responsible for the low prices of British consols, the "nervousness" in Paris, the "selling pressure" in Berlin, and the difficulty of selling securities in London, so that the big underwriting bankers have agreed not to offer foreign investments at present and only the very best domestic investments have any chance of finding customers.

There are local influences which cause little fluctuations, but the great financial tendencies, upward and downward, cannot be attributed to any local causes or fastened upon any political party or President. They are parts of world-wide movements.

Superintendent Winslow of the Providence public schools calls the attention of the committee to the growing inadequacy of the facilities for housing students in the city's high schools, stating that all are filled to their capacity, in spite of the fact that Providence and Rhode Island are below other New England cities and states in the ratio of high school pupils to the population. The present increase in high school attendance is chiefly in the number of those choosing the course at the Technical high school, and Superintendent Winslow says: "Manifestly the city must meet this situation in the near future by either providing enlarged accommodations for the Technical high school or the establishment of a separate trade school or continuation school for the benefit of many to whose needs other courses are not well adapted."

The ballot which the voters in New York will be asked to mark and cast Tuesday contains 11 columns, under party or independent designations. The regular parties are Republican, Democratic, National Progressive, Socialist, Prohibitionist and Independent League and the independent organizations the Socialist-Labor, the Anti-Tammany Jeffersonian Union, Inc., the Direct Primaries Nomination Alliance and the City Economy League. The names of Mitchell, Pendergast and McAneny, the fusion candidate for mayor, comptroller and president of the board of aldermen, are in six columns, McCall, the Democratic nominee for mayor, is in only two columns, and Metz, the Democratic candidate for comptroller, in only one.

The Senate banking committee and the President are still widely at odds on the currency bill, the committee voting, 10 to 2, in favor of four regional reserve banks or associations, instead of the 12 favored by Wilson. The smaller number of regional banks is almost as much a bugbear to the President as the central bank system. The action of the committee is the first out-and-out revolt against his leadership, which was supreme throughout the tariff debate and unquestioned during the currency debates in the House. President Wilson is now said to have ceased to work on the committee, relying on the Democratic caucus to take up the currency question and define the party policy.

Secretary of State Bryan, campaigning in favor of the Democratic ticket in New Jersey, is using President Wilson's record in favor of the President's choice for governor. In a speech delivered in four places he said: "If you're not proud of Woodrow Wilson, you'll be mighty lonesome for a long time. If he has realized your hope you owe it to him to let the whole country know it by voting for Mr. Fielder. I know that Mr. Fielder will follow in the steps of President Wilson."

Americans are still defeating Englishmen on their own grounds. In the freshmen's sports at Oxford this week American Rhodes scholars won three of the five events, and Rhodes scholars from other countries the other two. In only two contests did an Englishman gain as much as third place. One of the winners was Norman S. Taber of Providence, a famous miler who brought renown to Brown University while a student there.

New Jersey will be out of pocket $656,342.12 at the end of the fiscal year, as a result of the anti-corporation laws advocated by President Wilson and enacted while he was governor. Many large concerns incorporated under the former lax legislation have left the state since the passage of the so-called "seven sisters" laws and the fees from these have caused the falling off in the revenue.

If Rhode Island had not adopted biennial elections the state would now be in the midst of campaign excitement. Possibly Newport will have enough excitement in the city election, a month hence, to make up for the loss of the state contest.

The report is sent out from Washington that the administration is "all at sea" on its Mexican policy. It has taken a long time for some persons to learn this.

This is the day when the first part of the income tax law goes into force. Now we—some of us—will have plenty of trouble.

November comes in characteristic mood.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

Every citizen of Newport entitled to vote at the coming election on December 2, should be sure that his name is on the ward list of the ward wherein he resides.

The lists as corrected by the Board of Canvassers are now posted in three different places in each ward and all the ward lists are now posted on the illuminated board on Washington Square and also in the City Hall.

Many persons who were formerly taxed individually have been dropped from the tax book this year because of their business having been taxed. All persons conducting a business in a name other than their own, and who may be entitled to vote, should be sure that their names are on the lists.

All persons who may be entitled to vote and whose names are not on the lists, and all persons who have changed their addresses since the last election, should notify the City Clerk at once.

Per Order of the Board of Canvassers,
F. N. FULLERTON,
City Clerk.

CURRENCY LEGISLATION.

Arguments in Favor of the Bill Becoming a National Law.

[Samuel Untermyer, in North American Review.]

As to the merits of the bill under consideration, the objections that have been urged by the bankers and others and the counter proposals that are advanced: I am an unqualified champion of the fundamental principles involved in the bill in its present form, although there are many minor and a few important particulars in which it may be improved. It will hardly be contended that in its present form the bill is a perfect or comprehensive measure. It does not purport to be. It must eventually be supplemented by a revision of our obsolete national banking law, that has not been revised for 60 years, before the bill can be considered a comprehensive body of modern law applicable to present-day conditions in the banking and financial world. All this may safely follow later as part of the system that is now being created. So, too, the minor defects will doubtless be remedied as the discussion proceeds, for the men who have led in framing the bill are dominated by the earnest unselfish, and single-minded purpose of presenting the best possible results—unhampered by pride of opinion. * * *

Taking up the objections urged by the bankers and their proposals for changes, we find them still insistent upon a single central bank and, failing that, they urge a reduction from twelve to five in the number of the reserve banks. They no longer contend as under the Aldrich bill, for private banking control of the central body, but demand minority representation in the federal board, although the bill generously accords them control of all the reserve banks. * * *

Whether there shall be 12 regional banks or only four or five such banks is a serious and debatable question. The arguments in favor of a less number are powerfully arrayed in Mr. Warburg's paper printed in this issue. His conclusions are unassailable if his premises are correct that under the proposed system the reserves cannot be effectively mobilized, that a wide discount market for bills cannot be developed and that as a result the call-loan market will continue to be the stand-by of the banks.

I see no reason for assuming or agreeing to the soundness of any of these contentions. The various reserve banks are ingeniously "pipe-lined" under the supervision of the federal board, which thus secures the power to mobilize their reserves in anticipation of emergencies. That is a necessary power, and should be encouraged instead of being opposed by the banks. It makes for stability. It secures combined effort, which has always been urged as the great virtue of the Aldrich plan, and at the same time avoid the dangers of permanent centralization. Under normal conditions they operate independently and responsive to local requirements. In times of stress they are drawn together for united and co-operative action under impartial direction." * *

Answering now the argument that a wide discount market cannot be developed unless the number of reserve banks is diminished and their power correspondingly increased, one would imagine that the character and extent of the discount market would depend on the combined resources of the entire system that are available for the purchase of re-discount of foreign and domestic bills and acceptances and the corresponding demand, regardless of the number of units of which the system consists.

The importance of the development of such a market cannot be over-estimated. It lies at the foundation of the entire currency problem. The subject is little understood in this country. The bill does not sufficiently define commercial paper or protect the character of the paper against which currency may be issued to accomplish the desired purpose, except to "side-step" the difficult problems involved by relegating the whole subject to the federal board. That will never do. The question is fundamental.

I do not believe it will in any event be possible to develop this market for bills and acceptances unless the reserve banks are plainly permitted and encouraged to buy bills in the open market in competition with the banks, as before stated.

FERNS BY THE MILLION.

New Industry in Mountain Towns By Which City Markets Are Supplied.

Ferns by the million! That's what records of the Rutland Railroad freight office in Bennington, Vt., will show when the first snow closes the annual season, which is now on in the four southern towns of Bennington county, Woodford, Stamford, Searsburg and Readsboro.

Just why the peculiar industry of fern picking should be confined to the small section of country on the slope of the Taconic mountains in southern Vermont has never been satisfactorily explained. Ferns grow everywhere throughout parts of New England and northern New York, but the fact remains that in no other locality is business of the picking of the little sprays of green so thoroughly established as in the little belt of mountains less than a hundred square miles in area.

The industry is comparatively new and came into existence by the discovery by florists in the cities that the addition of a few ferns as a background for a box of blossoms added materially to the value, especially during the winter, when little green is available. Since it became known that ferns could be kept all winter in cold storage the business of gathering and retailing has increased rapidly, so that there are at present many firms in New York and Massachusetts which give it their entire attention several months of the year.

The business now annually brings into the mountain towns considerable money in wages. The pickers are paid by the piece, at the rate of four cents a hundred, and some of the industrious and nimble ones earn from $5 to $7 a day. If the weather permits all of 35,000,000 ferns will be shipped from Bennington and fully as many from the other side of the mountains it is an easy matter to figure out that this will mean $20,000 to the pickers alone, to say nothing of the wages paid to owners of teams who haul the ferns from the pickers' camps to the railroad station.

WOMEN AS LEGISLATORS.

[Algernon Lee in the Metropolitan.]

Finland has held its sixth annual election since the establishment of equal adult suffrage, and again the Socialists have made a gain. Beginning with eighty out of the 200 members of the Diet, they have won additional seats each year and now have 90.

Among the Socialist deputies are 13 women, while there are eight women in the Diet representing other parties. In a recent number of the Berlin Vorwaerts Hilja Paerssinen, one of the Socialist women deputies, gives an interesting account of their activities. They have introduced in all 14 bills and resolutions concerning the rights and condition of women and children. Only one of these has been passed—a law raising the age for marriage from 15 to 17. On all other questions eight non-Socialist women have regularly voted with their party and against their sex—on the questions of prohibiting night work for women, prohibiting child labor, providing assistance for working women before and after confinement, requiring fathers of all illegitimate children to contribute to their support, etc.

WHERE THE PROFESSIONAL STORY TELLER FLOURISHES.

Catania is noted for its professional story tellers, one of whom I came across surrounded by a crowd of men, who appeared to be completely absorbed in the story of the moment. As passers-by are at liberty to plant themselves in the chairs provided by the story teller, and need not pay anything unless they feel inclined, this business would seem to be rather a precarious one.

It was at Catania that I observed two men solemnly engaged in the unique occupation of washing hay—why, I cannot say. Driving their carts into an arm of the sea, they gravely took off their trowsers, and then, throwing the hay into the water, jumped in and washed it. This done, they reloaded the hay on to the carts, and departed for another consignment. Three times did I see them perform this novel task.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Nov., 1.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair tonight and Sunday; moderate westerly winds.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Forecast for southern New England—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; moderate westerly winds becoming variable.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Forecast for northern New England—Generally fair tonight and Sunday, moderate, variable winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The large area of high pressure that was noted Friday in the central valleys has moved southeastward with undiminished intensity. The pressure has fallen somewhat in the extreme Northeast. Scattered light snow flurries occurred during yesterday in portions of New England and Eastern Canada. The pressure has also fallen in the Northwest. There is some cloudiness in the Plains states but no precipitation of consequence. Showery conditions obtain on the Pacific slopes. Except as above mentioned, the weather is fair over the entire country, with generally clear sky.

The temperature remains low in all districts east of the Rockies. The lowest reported during the night in New England was 18 degrees at Greenville, Maine, and Northfield, Vt. The pressure distribution this morning is favorable for fair and cool weather to continue in this vicinity through tonight and Sunday. Freezing weather will probably occur again tonight in exposed places. Sunday night will be warmer. In Boston at 8 a. m., it was 35.

LADY CHEYLESMORE HERE.

Mrs. F. O. French's Daughter Triumphs Over Customs Officials.

Lady Cheylesmore of England, formerly Miss Elizabeth French, arrived here Friday evening, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Francis Ormonde French, and they are guests of Mrs. French Vanderbilt at "Harbourview." Lady Cheylesmore arrived from England Friday morning. She was married in London in July, 1892, to Colonel Herbert F. Eaton of the Grenadier Guards, who was later promoted to Major General in the British army and on the death of his elder brother succeeded to the title of Lord Cheylesmore. Lady Cheylesmore will remain in this country for a short visit, and on her return to England will be accompanied by her mother.

Lady Cheylesmore, on the arrival of the Lusitania at the dock in New York, gave the customs officials a rather puzzling problem. She wore on her hat a pheasant tail. She was first told that the plume came under the ruling against the entry of wild bird plumage. Lady Cheylesmore protested vigorously, however, and pleaded that in England the pheasant is raised as a barnyard fowl.

This argument was a new one to the collector's office and raised a point not considered before. The customs men finally decided that if pheasants are raised in English barnyards, English pheasants do not come under the ruling of wild birds, and therefore can be brought into the United States. Lady Cheylesmore, it is said, left the pier in triumph, her pheasant plumes fluttering in the fresh morning breeze.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Newport Boy Participates in Feature Picture; Head Liner for Next Week.

"The Green God," at the Opera House, was received with interested attention, both afternoon and evening. It is a photo-play of timely interest, with no dull moments, swift action and exciting situations. It also conveys a warning as to the perils which beset young womanhood in a great city.

"Through Barriers of Fire," another feature, is a drama dealing with the war between the North and the South, with battle scenes, the most thrilling of which is the driving of a van of explosives through a barrier of fire. A Newport boy participates in this picture, well known to the younger circle—Charles Crane, son of the late Oliver Crane.

"The Death Knell," a drama, will be the head-liner for Monday and Tuesday. Though the story looms dark in shadow, its progress on the film leads the spectator's interest into cumulative depths of power and feeling. There is not time for the spectator to sit back in his chair and prepare for the next shock. Only at the momentary intervals of the change of reel can he allow himself to relax and permit his breath and heart to return normal.

HALLOWE'EN PARTIES.

Friday evening about 30 young people gave a Hallowe'en surprise for Miss Julia Smith at her home on Bath road. Piano selections were rendered by Miss L. McCormick and Mr. Harold Wood and Mr. Andrew Mahoney gave demonstrations of many new dances. Games and dancing were enjoyed until midnight, when refreshments were served. The table was decorated with black and yellow crepe paper and an appropriate centrepiece, the place cards being designed and painted by Miss Florence Mayer. Miss Smith was assisted in entertaining her guests by her mother and Mrs. G. J. Kirwin.

Miss Hazel S. Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bailey, entertained a number of her friends at a Hallowe'en party at her home on Elliott place Friday evening. Hallowe'en games were played and Miss Hazel G. Bull rendered a number of piano selections.

About 30 couples of young people gave a subscription Hallowe'en dance at the Civic League house Friday night, with music by the mandolin orchestra and a good time by all.

In many of the windows of the Nurses' Home blinked lighted jack-o-lanterns Friday evening.

JAMESTOWN.

Diamond Spring Rifle Club's Weekly Shoot—Death of Miss Lutz.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The Diamond Spring Rifle Club held its weekly shoot Friday evening, the scores being as follows:

James Hoyle	223	180	403
William Hern	215	220	435
George Chandler	219	222	441
Wallace Alderson	198	207	405

Miss Lutz of Philadelphia died this morning at he home of Mr. Thomas C. Watson. She came here to visit Mr. and Mrs. Watson some time ago a I had een confined to the house several weeks. She was sister of Mrs. Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Wright have moved from Ocean avenue to their new bungalow on Shoreby Hill.

Mr. T. D. Wright is building a cottage and stable on the Bryer plat for Mr. Amos L. Peckham.

News has been received from the party which left here about a week ago on a gunning trip in Maine, that they were all well and that Mr. William L. Arnold had shot a buck deer weighing 250 pounds.

Professor Nicholas gave a dance Friday night at St. James Manor on Green lane. There was a good attendance. The music was furnished by Peckham's orchestra.

Mr. A. C. Knowles, Mr. Ralph Hall and Mr. George W. Peckham, Jr., have returned from Stonington.

The following names are taken from the register at Maplewood as recent visitors: Charles Higney, Edgewood; Charles Decker, Brooklyn; Mrs. Alice Dickerson, Lynn, Mass.; J. W. Estes, St. Augustine, Fla.; William F. Lythgoe, Miss Lythgoe, Sharon, Mass.; Lybrand P. Smith, U. S. S. Dixie; Mrs. J. Newton, Master Walter Newton, Bristol; Harry James Smith, Berlin, Conn.; R. W. Le Baron, Arlington, Mass.; Joseph Valentie, R. I. Holmes, Cranston; A. P. Lowe, Stonington, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Chapman, Philip Rhodes Chapman, W. Hunter Brown, Julian Newton, Providence.

DISTRICT COURT CASES.

In the district court Friday afternoon Samuel Pierson, charged with throwing stones at Samuel Hyde's place in Tiverton, was convicted and fined $1 and costs, the fine being light, as the costs were heavy, exceeding $30.

There was a hearing on the case against Lars S. Larson for non support. There was a question if there had been a bona fide marriage, though Mrs. Larson seemed to think there had been, and City Solicitor Sullivan and Mr. Levy tried to show that defendant should be compelled to pay something for support. The question seemed a close one and the case was finally continued to Friday next to allow the filing of briefs. The case against Nicholas Card, set for Friday, was forced over, because so much time was taken with the two Tiverton cases.

WINTER MAIL SCHEDULE.

Chief Difference in New Arrangement Lays in Wickford Boat Trips.

This being November 1, the winter mail arrangements went into effect. The chief differences are in the running of the Wickford boat, which no longer makes the 7:10 trip out in the morning or the late trip at 11:20 at night. The early trip in will be made the same as now, so that the mails should arrive as heretofore. The mail which was sent out on the 7:10 a. m. trip will, according to Postmaster Burlingame, now go on the 6:50 train, and going to Providence will be forwarded about the same as if it had gone on the General. The mail will close at 6:15 a. m., which is a trifle early for some. The last mail out will close at 8:30 and go by train, instead of 10 p. m. as heretofore. This will not make as much difference as some suppose, at this season, as there is not much late mail in the winter time.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Th members of the Newport branch of the Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage were entertained by Mrs. Charles B. Weaver at "Weaver Manor," Middletown, Friday evening, when an important business meeting was held. This included a change in the by-laws, which increases the number of members of the executive board, and the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

Honorary Chairman—Mrs. Joseph Howland.
Chairman—Mrs Charles B. Weaver.
Secretary—Mrs. Ernest Howe.
Treasurer—Mrs. Harry E. Yarnell.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—The public convenience on the Mall has gone into winter quarters.

—Mr. John T. Cory, who was temporarily incapacitated, is again able to be out.

—A. J. Carter announces himself as a candidate for license, commissioner at the January election.

—Mrs. J. F. A. Clark and her children, who have been at the Warren cottage, returned to New York this morning.

—Mr. James W. Boardley, who has been at the hospital for an operation, has so far recovered as to be able to be about again.

—Herbert L. Dyer has sold, through his Broadway office, for the Children's Home, to Hjalmer Johnson, a lot of land on the northerly side of Russell avenue.

—Captain Earl of Fort Greble launch Lieut. E. E. Smith is on his annual furlough and his place is being filled by Mr. John P. Full of the General Swartout.

—Countess Szechenyi, who with the count has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, arrived Friday afternoon to join her children in visiting her mother at "The Breakers."

—Steamer General having entered on her winter schedule, will shortly put her summer furniture in winter storage. There will not be so much demand hereafter for seats on the open deck.

—Mrs. William E. Wilmerding, who owns the Gray Ledge Tea House at Beavertail, and has been visiting here, returned to Cambridge this afternoon. She will come here in December for the winter.

—The staging on the new Weaver Building is coming down as fast as the walls are washed and inspected. As the staging comes down the windows are put in and the third story is now enclosed from the weather.

—The engrossed copy of the resolutions on the death of former Mayor R. S. Franklin has been executed by Mr. Francis M. Sisson, clerk of the highway department, and makes a handsome appearance, appropriately framed.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, and Mr. Herbert P. Crowley, son of Chief of Police James R. Crowley, will take place at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, Monday, November 10.

—The fish dealers and others who carry crabs for bait are stocked up for the tautog fishermen who will go out Sunday and the weather promises to be better than for some Sundays past. Of course it is a trifle chilly, but one can have some good exercise if the fish will only bite.

—Steamer Nathaniel Greene, from Forts Wright and Terry, in the Sound, arrived this morning with the football teams from those two forts, with supporters. The Fort Wright team plays Fort Adams at Adams and the Fort Terry team plays at Fort Greble. The steamer will leave at 6 tonight for her home ports.

—Some of the rubbish on the Duke Street sidewalk, referred to in the News some time ago, has been removed; the old gas stove seems due to stay there through another winter, and fresh rubbish has been left to keep it company. The waste water from the back of the restaurant is also yet on the job.

—Work will be begun Monday morning with steam drills to excavate for the foundation for two additions which Mr. Huntington Wilson is to make to the bungalow at Cherry Neck, recently purchased by him, and which he has occupied the past two seasons. The contractors are the Central Building Company of Worcester.

—The condition of Gunner's Mate Bringes of the Naval Reserves has taken a bad turn during the past day or two and at 3 o'clock this afternoon the hospital reported him as still in a very serious condition. Colonel King is continuing to improve but is very weak, and his desire to converse with the few callers he is allowed to see exceeds his strength.

—Edward T. Lee, Chester Kane, Edward T. Wickes, Frank Barry, George N. Richardson, Joseph Murphy and Frank Waller are the incorporators of a new association to be known as the Thespian Club of this city, incorporated by the secretary of state. The club is formed for the advancement of its members in literature, music and athletics, as stated in its charter of association.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Papers Filed by Mrs. Amos Tuck French Three Weeks Ago.

Papers in a suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Amos Tuck French were filed with Clerk Harvey of the superior court three weeks ago, but up to the present time there has been no return of service and it is not possible to tell whether the case will appear on the December docket. The grounds on which the suit is brought have not been made public.

A News representative this noon visited the residence of Mrs. French on Red Cross avenue, to inquire if there was any truth in the report published in New York and alleged to have originated here. Mrs. French declined to be interviewed, and in reply to a note asking if the News might deny the report sent back the message: "No answer."

CENTRAL GARAGE DEBUT.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron's House-Warming in Form of Hallowe'en Party.

The Central Garage on Church street, the old Greene mill property, made its debut Friday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aaron gave a house-warming in the form of a Hallowe'en party. More than half a hundred friends were invited, the granolithic floor was given a coat of sawdust and McCloskey's orchestra played for dancing, which proved enjoyable and novel on this dancing surface.

The interior of this spacious fireproof structure is spotless white, and bunting and other decorations were arranged for the occasion. It is well heated with its own plant, and this made it comfortable for the guests, while the stock and chauffeurs' rooms and the office provided coat and retiring rooms. The garage proper has room for 20 machines, practically all of which has been spoken for, and formed a fine area for dancing. During the evening refreshments were served and as the guests were largely of the dancing set and the music was of the enlivening order it was a lively scene until midnight.

In addition to some of the decorations the Hallowe'en idea was further carried out by the suspension of apples from strings, just above the heads of the dancers, which they endeavored to pluck, to the amusement of others. Mr. and Mrs. Aaron received their guests and showed them about the structure.

ANOTHER LANDMARK GONE.

Old "Round House" on Marsh Street Once a Steamboat Waiting Room.

Another landmark has gone the way of so many before it: the "round house" on Marsh street has been torn down. It came down Friday, and in its fall went a house which many old-timers will remember. It was not really a round house, from either a railroad or an architectural point of view. It was octagonal, or something in that line, and many years ago, when some one started a steamboat line to New York, this was the waiting room at the west end of Long wharf. It was not large enough to accommodate the travel of 1913; in fact, it became so small, or the travel so great, that it was retired very many years ago and only old-timers can remember when it was a waiting room or steamboat depot. During the Civil war Captain Hugh Brady ran a restaurant in the round house, which had then been displaced as a waiting room.

In tearing down the old structure the men found one of a pair of dancing pumps evidently once a treasured souvenir, with a note with the information that it was last worn by George White in 1857. The paper was so effected by age that it crumbled when handled, which makes it look like a piece of modern paper, though it may have been in its time a piece of cheap wrapping paper.

CONDEMNED MATERIAL.

Nineteen Lots Disposed of by Proposals Opened at Torpedo Station.

Sealed proposals were opened this morning by Paymaster John W. Morse at the Torpedo Station, for 19 lots of condemned material, and the several lots were disposed of as follows:

No. 17, lamp bases, no bid.
No. 18, seven iron tanks, James O'Brien, Newport.
No. 19, scrap metal, Samuel Butler & Co., Boston.

The lots withdrawn from sale were withdrawn by direction of the Secretary of the Navy.

BIG PARADE IN BROOKLYN.

Suffragists in Pre-Election Demonstration of Their Strength.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Suffragists of Greater New York, re-inforced by many out of town allies, marched two and a half miles through the streets of Brooklyn this afternoon as a pre-election demonstration of their strength. Seven thousand women and 1,500 men were assigned places in the line. Leaders in the fight for the ballot, including Dr. Anna Shaw and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, were to address the paraders in a mass meeting at the end of the line of march. The parade was headed by a duplicate of the famous Liberty bell, but whose tongue was tied, not to be released till woman suffrage has become general throughout the United States. A group of girls, clad in white, represented the states which have given women the ballot.

FRIDAY NIGHT WAS COOL.

Ice Forms in Exposed Places, But Floral Displays Still Good.

There was no question even with the small boy and girl who were out with Hallowe'en pranks in mind, but Friday night was cool, some will insist in calling it cold, though it did not go down to the freezing mark at 32 until after midnight. The low mark at the pumping station was 28, from 3 to 6 a. m., when it began to go up. It still felt chilly, in the shade and especially in the wind, until about noon, when the temperature had gone up to 46, two degrees above the high mark of Friday. This afternoon the wind is swinging around to the southwest and it is growing still warmer.

With the low mark four degrees below freezing and a chilly northwester blowing, ice naturally formed in exposed places. It was about a quarter of an inch thick in spots. Some vegetation felt the chill, Nasturtiums were among the most sensitive, though tomato plants were a close second. Some exposed dahlias felt a little, but generally the dahlias stood the cold all right and are looking as well as they did Friday.

There are still some good floral displays to be seen, though many of the gardeners have stripped their flower beds during the past few days. A few hydrangeas are still in color, though most of the bushes show that the season is past. Roses and most flowers which had not dried up are still showing as bright as they did last week.

There are some fine color schemes among the trees on summer places. The recent high winds have sent many leaves down, but on many places the trees are so sheltered that the leaves generally are still in place, with good color contrasts. These are worth a walk down the avenue and wherever there are good trees. There are some good effects on Senator Wetmore's estate, and many others well worth a stroll to see the autumn display.

APPEAL UNDER ADVISEMENT.

McManigal May be Freed Within Next Six Days.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Ortie E. Manigal, whose confession as an accomplice of the McNamara brothers figured in the trial at Indianapolis of the union labor leaders, whose appeal was taken under advisement yesterday after arguments in the United States court of appeals at Chicago may be a free man within six days.

County authorities said today that with the decision on the appeal McManigal probably would be released from the Los Angeles county jail, where he has been a prisoner for two and half years, having left it only for a few weeks to testify for the government at Indianapolis trials last year.

MODEL POSTOFFICE SCHEME

Entire Service to be Standardized for Greater Efficiency.

Postmaster General Burleson has decided to standardike the entire postal service, so far as possible, with a view to greater efficiency. To this end the department will operate a number of model offices, "dynamos from which to charge the entire chain and system of offices throughout the country." These offices will be used to discover the best practicable way of administering the postal facilities and to test out devices and methods which may prove of value.

In organizing the field service for this work, the country has been divided into three groups, the Atlantic states, the middle West and the Pacific coast. It is proposed to send immediately two postal experts from Washington to each of these divisions, where they will co-operate with postoffice inspectors in a study of conditions at designated offices, with a view to re-organizing the clerical forces on a more efficient basis, if found advisable.

The investigations will cover every phase of the service, including collections of mail, methods of handling in postoffices and on trains, and final delivery. "In this way," the Postmaster General said, "postmasters of all classes will be given the benefit of the discoveries at the more important offices and a material betterment of the postal service throughout the country must result."

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs. Peter D. Martin is at the Holland House, New York.

—The Aquidneck Cottage Industries are arranging for their usual fall sale.

—Mr. Hamilton B. Tompkins returned to New York Friday evening.

—Mrs. Charles Potter Kling gave a dinner at "Zabriskie House" Friday evening.

—Mr. Howard Peckham of Little Compton will spend the winter in Newport.

—Mrs. William Stevens and family have closed their Tiverton summer home and returned to the city.

—Mrs. James Russell Soley, who has been guest of Mrs. Vanderbilt at "The Breakers", has returned to New York.

—Mrs. Hunter, wife of Colonel Charles H. Hunter, entertained at bridge at Fort Adams Friday afternoon.

—Misses Ruth and Louise Barker are spending the week-end at Fairhaven, Mass., guests of Mrs. William Church.

—Commander George W. Laws has been detached from the command of the Dolphin and ordered to the Naval War College.

—Mrs. Stanley McCormick, who has occupied "Stonecare" during the summer and autumn, has gone to Boston for the winter.

—Mrs. Walter N. Eldridge and Miss Katherine Neill will sail for Europe November 15, to remain abroad the greater part of the winter.

—The Misses Byrnes entertained at their home on William street Friday evening. Vocal and instrumental music was rendered by the guests.

—Miss Emily Burdick has returned from Dean Academy for a short visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burdick, on Brooks avenue.

—Captain Frank Lewis of the Sakonnet River Oyster Company has returned from his annual visit to the West in the interest of the oyster business, which begins about November 1.

Master Elmer Negus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Negus of Block Island, was successfully operated upon for appendicitis at the Newport Hospital Friday.

First Lieutenant Clarence T. Marsh, coast artillery corps, has been relieved from duty on the east defenses of Subic bay, Philippine Islands, and assigned to the One Hundred and Seventeenth company, at Fort Adams.

—Mrs. Evans, wife of Lieutenant Commander Frank T. Evans, U. S. N., left Friday evening for Fort Monroe, to visit her father and will later go to Charleston, S. C., where Lieutenant Commander Evans will be on duty in command of the Monaghan.

Rev. G. A. Hulbert, pastor of the United Congregational Church, returned this morning from Kansas City, where he has been attending the sessions of the National Council of Congregational Churches. Mrs. Hulbert returned from Blue Ridge, N. Y., where she has been guest of relatives for two weeks.

—There was another fine sunset display Friday night, though it did not last as long as Thursday night. Until 5:30 and later it was brilliant, however, and the scene was made even prettier by the slender crescent of the new moon showing just clear of the red and looking no thicker than a child's band of pure gold.

Rev. Tertius Van Dyke, son of Rev. Henry Van Dyke, D. D., is serving as acting pastor of the Spring Street Presbyterian Church, New York, which has been without a pastor since last July. It is expected that he will be called as regular pastor. He was ordained by the Presbytery of New York last May, after being licensed to preach by that body in spite of a protest as to his orthodoxy.

—The mission by the Dominican Fathers which Father Higney has arranged to be held in St. Joseph's parish will begin Sunday at the high mass, and the first week will as usual be for the women. Tomorrow will also be All Souls day, and as it comes on Sunday will be observed by a special mass Monday morning at all the Catholic churches. Tomorrow Vicar General Doran will be at St. Mary's church in the interest of St. Joseph's Hospital.

—At the wedding of Miss Annie May Wallace and Mr. Edward A. Stockwell, which will take place in Providence next week, Miss Wallace will be attended by Miss Helen G. Chase and Miss Helen M. Capron, the best man will be Mr. Charles C. Remington, and the ushers Dr. Nathaniel H. Gifford, Messrs. Howard Johnson Greene, Thomas Crosby and Irving O. Hunt. Miss Wallace has many relatives and friends in Newport who will attend the wedding.

—A peculiar accident is reported from Fall River. Wednesday afternoon as the train due here at 4:53 approached the state line an automobile with several young men started to cross the track, when the driving chain broke and the machine was stalled right on the track. There had been plenty of room for crossing, but when the breakdown took place there was not time to push the car clear of the track and all the occupants could do was to jump out to a place of safety. The car was smashed.

WILSON'S POWER SWAYS PARTY.

The President, Like Roosevelt, Keeps Popularity at High Tide.

Arkansas Women Settle Liquor Questions With Votes—Meat From South America.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Although many unfulfilled predictions have been made that Woodrow Wilson will not be able to maintain the power he has exercised since he has been President, the prophets along this line are not daunted and continue to point out how no man can continue to sway his party much longer as President Wilson has.

Possibly these prophets base their opinions upon the grumbling they hear among Senators and Representatives who objected because they were kept here after the tariff bill had passed. But those who have been home and felt the pulse of the people are stronger Wilson men than ever. The same sort of feeling prevailed when Roosevelt was President. Like Wilson, he had the people with him, and, like Wilson, he had his way with Congress.

It is with a realization of how time changes all things that I read that in the settlement of liquor licenses in Arkansas all white women are to be permitted to vote.

In the first Bryan campaign, 1896, Senator Jones of Arkansas was chairman of the national committee and called its first meeting in New York. Another Arkansas man was a member of the committee. I remember the surprise—almost consternation—which these Arkansas men felt when Mrs. Bryan came into the meeting with the candidate of the party. The surprise grew to amazement when she stayed and took part in the consideration of questions concernig the campaign. And now women of Arkansas by their votes are going to settle liquor questions in that state.

There is a large supply of meat in South America, according to the report of Dr. Melvin of the Agricultural Department, who made a recent trip for the purpose of learnig about meat conditions. For many years Dr. Melvin has been at the head of the bureau of animal industry in the department and has done all he could to improve the meat conditions in this country.

In all those years he has seen the supply of meat diminish when compared to the increase of population. He has seen prices go higher and higher, and now he returns from South America with the report that there is a supply of meat in Argentine, Brazil and Chili. But that is not of advantage to the agriculturist in the United States. It would be better if the department could show our farmers how to raise more meat.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma has not been making headway with his scheme of cloture in the Senate. He has been too busy, of course, since he became chairman of the banking and currency committee to look after other matters that interest him, cloture in the Senate being one and the establishment of a department of health the other. As things now look, both will come along about the same time. Owen will have more success with the currency bill than he will have with cloture or a new department of health.

"There were among the ancients men who knew more about the philosophy of money than most of us in the present day," remarked Senator Lewis of Illinois. "For myself, I do not want to handle other people's money. I like to have enough for my own wants, but I have never had a desire to hoard it. And I cannot advise about money. If the investment turns out bad your friends look askance at you, always feeling that you ought to make up the loss. Money is something I know very little about."

"Burleson has the surplus bug just as it has afflicted other heads of his department," said a man who was not pleased with some action of the Postmaster General. Mr. Burleson says that he wants to make the Postoffice Department self sustaining if possible, but that he does not propose to sacrifice efficiency to accomplish that result.

"The people who use the mails ought to pay for the service," he remarked one day. Of course that cannot be applied to other departments of the government, for they cannot be made to earn enough to pay for their keep."

Senator La Follette is all smiles these days. He is a different man from when he first came here from Wisconsin. He believes that things are coming his way. He may not be President, but he is making a name for himself.

MISS CLARK TO GIVE ADVICE.

House Interested in Selection of Wedding Gift for Miss Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Members of the House of Representatives are exhibiting much interest in the selection of their wedding gift for Miss Jessie Wilson, the White House bride-to-be. While no definite decision as yet has been reached in the character of the gift, most members are said to favor silver.

Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of the Speaker, will play an important part in the selection of the gift. The suggestion that Miss Clark should give her advice in the matter came from Minority Leader Mann, who also started the movement for the present for the President's daughter.

YOUNG HERO HONORED.

Porter Reedor, Jr., Awarded Silver Medal by the Government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Gallantry in saving the life of a little child, at the risk of his own, has won for 11-year-old Russell Porter Reeder, Jr., a silver medal of honor from the United States government. Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury Department today announced the award in recognition of his fine conduct in rescuing George E. Mallen, six years old, who fell overboard from a small boat moored to a wharf at Fort McKinley, Great Diamond island, Maine, August 5 last.

Young Reeder is the son of Captain Russell Porter Reeder, coast artillery corps, stationed at Fort McKinley.

WANTED IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

"Professor Dennis" of Alleged "Clairvoyant Trust" Held in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Said to be wanted as a swindler in England, Canada and a dozen American cities, "Professor" Charles Dennis, a member of the alleged "clairvoyant trust" which was broken up here last spring, is in the hands of the Chicago police and will face trial on several indictments charging fraud.

Dennis was arrested in Boston October 24 and was held in secrecy until turned over to the Chicago police. He was brought here last night. Among the criminal transactions charged against the "professor," and for which indictments have been returned are:

Swindling five Chicago people, among whom were two employes of the International Harvester Company.

Arranging with another "professor" for holding up two clairvoyant friends, who had "cleaned up" $6,000 and a $1,500 diamond ring in Louisville.

BURLESON'S WARNING.

Cautions Public As to Amount of Postage Necessary on Foreign Mail.

WASHINGTON, November 1.—Postmaster General Burleson issued a warning today, calling attention to the fact that as a "penalty" for not ascertaining the amount of postage necessary before mailing letters between the United States and foreign countries each country concerned in the delivery charges double the amount of deficient postage before delivery is made. The Postmaster General was led to caution the public to this effect, because of the large number of letters being mailed to Australia bearing only two cents in postage instead of five cents. At present two-cent letter postage agreements exist only between the United States and Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Newfoundland, and the Panama Canal zone, the Republic of Panama, Germany, England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland, and Shanghai, China. To all other countries, including Australia, the rate is five cents for the first ounce.

A REGAL HEAD

How often do we hear or see this expression used in describing a beautiful woman!

Denude that head of its hair and instead of a queenly, royal bearing we have a fright. The hair makes all the difference. To have that glorious abundance of radiant hair which always crowns "a regal head," one should use Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide represents the last word in scientific hair culture. It destroys the dandruff germ, checks falling hair and corrects generally, diseases of the hair and scalp.

The positive results and its delicate but refreshing odor recommends Newbro's Herpicide to ladies of refinement everywhere.

Send 10c in postage for sample bottle of Herpicide and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

Wise Planning Cuts Cost

The question is not, Can we afford plumbing?

You must have it, if you have come to the front and joined the class of clean, alert, alive and up-to-date.

The question is, How to get modern plumbing at the right price?

By our experience we know how to plan so as to cut out unnecessary material and labor of installing and this in connection with a suitable choice of "Standard" plumbing fixtures means

"Standard" "Maynard" Bath

RASH ON HANDS ITCHED AND BURNED

Skin Cracked. Would Wake Scratching Them. Deep Cuts. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured in Two Weeks.

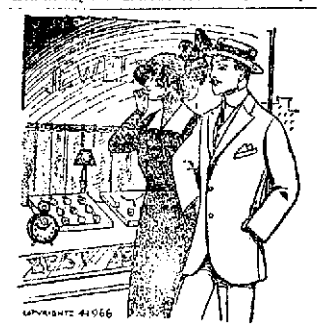

Fifth St., Leominster, Mass.—"My hands began to itch, then the skin got thick and in some places cracked, and other parts water and matter would come out of. They itched at night so that I would wake up scratching them and could not stop until I would bring the blood. This of course made them a great deal worse. There were pimples on them and when I scratched there would water come out of them and then there was a rash and deep cuts on my hands. They itched and burned so much that I really did not know what I was doing. I could not sleep. Nobody can imagine what I suffered.

"I tried everything, but nothing seemed to help me. I decided to send for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they did me so much good I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed my hands in hot water and Cuticura Soap at night and put the Cuticura Ointment on before going to bed and put an old white stocking on each hand. In two weeks I was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Mario Havole, Jan. 16, 1913.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

HEARING AT ST. PAUL MONDAY.

Government Suit to Dissolve International Harvester Company.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 1.—The suit of the United States vs. International Harvester Company, to dissolve it, will come on for hearing in the United States district court here before Circuit Judges Sanborn, Hook and Smith next Monday. In its petition, filed April 30, 1912, the government alleges that the International Harvester Company was organized in 1902 as a trust, in violation of the Sherman law; that its purchase of the plants, properties and business of the McCormick, Deering, Plano, Warder, Bushnell & Glossner and Milwaukee companies created in that company a monopoly of the business in binders, mowers, rakes and binder twine in the United States; and that, in its business methods and practices, the company had increased its prices, to the grave injury of the farmers, and had coerced dealers and eliminated competitors.

The company in its answer, filed August 5, 1912, admitted the purchase of the harvester properties and business of the five vendor companies, but denied that the company was organized for any unlawful purpose or that such purchase gave it a monopoly in the harvester trade, or that it had increased prices, or that its business methods and practices had injured the farmers, the dealers, or its competitors; but, on the contrary, its answer stated that its organization and business had been a benefit to the farmers in improved machines and service and in the low prices of the machines.

The taking of evidence on behalf of the government began at Chicago September 16, 1912, before Robert S. Taylor, examiner. The government called witnesses at hearings held in Chicago, New York, St. Louis and St. Paul. On behalf of the Harvester company witnesses were called at hearings held at Omaha, Neb.; Wichita, Kansas; Kansas City, Mo.; Sioux Falls, South Dakota; St. Paul, Minn.; Pittsburgh, Pa., and Chicago. The taking of evidence was completed June 27 last. The record returned to the court by the examiner consists, with the exhibits, of 18 printed volumes of about 600 pages each.

Counsel representing the government are Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant to the Attorney General of the United States, and Joseph R. Darling; and for the defendants, Judge William D. McHugh of Omaha, and John P. Wilson and Edgar A. Bancroft of Chicago.

LARGE AUDIENCE PRESENT.

American Exchange Professors Open Lectures in Berlin University.

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The two American exchange professors, Archibald Cary Coolidge of Harvard and Paul Shorey of the University of Chicago, delivered their opening lectures in the auditorium of Berlin University at noon today. There was a very large audience composed of members of the academic and official worlds. Prince August Wilhelm was present as representative of the emperor. The subject of Professor, Coolidge's lecture was "Contemporary historiography" and that of Professor Shorey "the American and his hopes."

LIMITED TO 54 HOURS A WEEK.

Pennsylvania's New Woman Employment Law in Effect.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 1.—Pennsylvania's new woman employment law went into effect today and the limited number of hours of employment for women and girls will be 54 hours a week, except in the home and on the farm. The new law prohibits the employment of women or girls for more than six consecutive days, and not more than 10 hours in any one day. One feature of the act is that 45 minutes must be allowed for the mid-day meal and a rest period of the same length after continuous employment for six hours. Night employment is limited to telephone operators over 18 years old and to women employed as managers, superintendents clerks and stenographers.

SEVERAL LIVES THREATENED.

Orders of Boston Fire Captain Mistaken by Laborers.

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—"Let her go," cried the captain of a fire company to his men, who were raising a ladder at a small fire on Summer street early today. Workmen manning a winch, which held a thirty-ton steel girder above an annexation for subway costruction thought the command came from their foreman and they "let her go," with the result that the girder descended perilously close to the heads of 15 laborers in the excavation. The foreman seeing their mistake quickly countermanded the supposed order and the downward career of the girder was checked barely in time to save the excavators from being crushed.

DUE TO MRS. LIND.

Mexican Legislators Escape Arrest by Hiding on Steamer Morro Castle.

Steamer Morro Castle, which arrived at New York Friday night from Vera Cruz with Mrs. John Lind, wife of President Wilson's special envoy, brought also two Mexican legislators, who owe their liberty, if not their lives, to her quick wit and generosity. To save the two Mexicans from arrest at Vera Cruz, Mrs. Lind hid them in her stateroom and sat up all night on deck until the boat left and the officials of the Huerta government had gone ashore.

A week ago the cables brought word that Ward liner Morro Castle had been detained at Vera Cruz while Huerta's agents searched for eight rebellious members of the legislature of the state of Vera Cruz. Until the Morro Castle arrived at New York only those on board knew that two of the eight Deputies had escaped arrest. These men, Adolfo Dominguez and Miguel A Cordera, say they will stay in New York until Mexico becomes a safer home for the opponents of Huerta.

Mrs. Lind said her husband had expected to come home after the Mexican election. Now she did not know when he would come.

The six deputies taken off the vessel at Vera Cruz were held on summons from the district judge charging rebellion, but no such summons had been issued for Dominguez and Cordera, and by insisting upon their rights they gained time to hide in Mrs. Lind's room. The men insist that, while conditions in Mexico were chaotic, interference by the United States would only make matters worse. They believe the quickest way to restore peace in Mexico would be for the government to grant amnesty to all rebels and hold a free election.

RUSSELL CASE SETTLED.

Claimant from North Dakota Not the Long Lost Heir.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 1.—The facts in the long drawn out contest for the $500,000 Russell estate were made known today by a master, who declared that the claimant from Dickinson, N. D., is not the long lost heir, but that the man found in Fresno, Cal., and known as Fresno Dan is Daniel Blake Russell, son of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose.

The finding was filed in the supreme court today by O. A. A. Pevey, master in the case, who listened to the testimony for 11 months. In a 63 page opinion Mr. Pevey finds that the Dakota claimant is James Delbert Russaw and holds that Russaw has neither the mental, moral, physical or intellectual characteristics of the Russell family. The attention of the supreme court is called to the testimony of two witnesses for Russaw, which the master finds was grossly false. As the report of the master settles the case, so far as the facts are concerned, any appeal must be based on questions of law.

The Russell will case has been before the Massachusetts courts for four years and has already occasioned two unusually long hearings, first in the probate court, from which decision the North Dakota claimant appealed, and second before Master Pevey. The probate hearing began September 20, 1909, and closed April 23, 1910. The master's hearing began July 15, 1912, and ended June 11, 1913.

Counsel for the Dakota claimant filed with the court 75 objections to the master's findings, and asked that Mr. Pevey be required to report in full the evidence pertaining to the various objections. The three principal objections relate to the finding of the master that the Dakota man is not the son of Daniel Russell, that William C. Russell is not mentally deficient, and the intimation that two of "Dakota Dan's" witnesses committed perjury.

The security given to members of this Association is believed to be all that can be offered any investor anywhere. Its funds are loaned to members only, and are secured by first mortgages on real estate. Borrowers are required to pay a fixed part of their loans every month, so that the risk of the Association is constantly becoming less. As further security borrowers must pledge their shares for the payment of their loans. In the more than 25 years of the Association's life no member has lost a dollar of his investment. New shares are now offered.

10:45 —The gradual contraction in Stock Exchange business during the last fortnight led up to a condition of stagnation when the market opened today. With a holiday in London today, and one at home Tuesday, traders gave up hope of active speculation before the middle of next week and many of them remained away from the street today. In the first 10 minutes of trading less than 7,000 shares were dealt in. Changes were inconsequential, but slight declines in Steel, Amalgamated and a few other active stocks gave the market an easy tone. Canadian Pacific fell a point. Mexican Petroleum, which broke 7 points yesterday, was again weak at the opening today. It declined 3 points to 54, a new low record. Later it rebounded to 58.

Closing—The market closed steady. Operations in stocks today threw little light on the immediate course of prices. Business was of an unusually restricted character even for a Saturday session, and many of the ordinarily active speculative stocks were not traded in. The tone of the market was wavering for a time, but confidence in the long side soon asserted itself and the list more than re-gained the small initial declines. Speculative conditions were virtually the same as those which had obtained through the week. Traders were reluctant to take on new lines until the market for call funds returned to a normal basis, following yesterday's squeeze. Bonds steady. Money on call, nominal. Time loans, firm; 60 days 5 per cent; 90 days 5; 6 months 4¾ @ 5. Prime mercantile paper 5½ @ 5¾ per cent. Sterling exchange steadier at $4.80.65 for 60 day bills and at $4.85.15 for demand. Commercial bills $4.80¼. Bar silver 59⅝. Mexican dollars 45¼. Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, steady. Exchanges, $417,799,693; balances, $29,481,201; for the week—exchanges, $1,866,724,545; balances, $11,-223,745,1246.

A LONG ISLAND WEDDING.

Miss Nancy G. Steele Married to Mr. Devereux Milburn.

The marriage of Miss Nancy G. Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steele, to Mr. Devereux Milburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Milburn, took place this afternoon in the Church of the Advent, Westbury, Long Island. The ceremony was attended only by relatives and a few intimate friends, but there was a large reception and breakfast at "Sunridge Hall," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steele, following the ceremony.

The bride's chief attendant was her sister, Miss Katheryne N. Steele. Misses Josephine Osborn, Marion Hollins, Eleanor Lawrence, Lisa Stillman, Sarah Remsen Maurice and Helen Dinsmore Huntington were the bridesmaids. Mr. Perry Osborn was the best man and Messrs. Louis Crawford Clark, Jr., Bertram de N. Cruger, Sidney W. Fish, Harrison Tweed, Albert Ames and Philip Carroll were the ushers. Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas' Church, New York, was one of the officiating clergymen.

MARY ANTIN.

Author of "The Promised Land" Not Connected With Suffrage League.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

May I correct a misapprehension that has arisen with regard to the coming of Mary Antin? She is not here to raise money for the cause of suffrage. So far as the writer knows, she is not connected with any suffrage league.

Mary Antin, in "The Promised Land," has given some account of her childhood, within the pale in Russia, of the many instances of the persecution of her people, of her trip to America and of her life in Boston.

She tells us that in Russia Jewish scholarship for the boy was limited to a knowledge of the Hebrew literature and language, that a girl was "finished" when she could read her prayers in Hebrew. "If she could sign her name in Russian, do a little figuring, and write a letter in Yiddish to the parents of her betrothed, she was called "wohl gelehrent"—well educated." Although Mary's father and mother had a higher standard for their girls, they had to be satisfied with the "girls'" teacher, a rebbe of less scholarship than that of those who taught the boys. He must have wished for more knowledge when he began to teach little Mary. Not even in America, the promised land, could the wisest teacher have answered all her questions.

"In the beginning—Rebbe, when was the beginning?"

"In the beginning God made the earth—Rebbe, what did he make it out of?"

"Reb' Lebe, who made God?"

Misfortunes came to the family and they were reduced to great poverty. Up and down the country the father traveled in search of work. To add to their suffering there was an expulsion of the Jews from Moscow, resulting in extra burdens and persecution for the Jews within the pale. In some way Mary's father heard of the Baron de Hirsh fund for helping Jews to leave Russia, and was sent to America.

The family left in Russia endured many hardships until the father was able to borrow the money for their steamer ticket. Great was the rejoicing in the poor little home! Neighbors must handle the magical cardboard, the mother must be advised until confusion reigns in her brain. She must take her feather beds, for they are scarce in America. She must sew her money into the lining of her jacket, for the policemen in Castle Garden take all the money from the passengers as they land unless they deny having any.

After repeated delays and much discouragement the mother and four children reached Boston. Here they were introduced to new foods, in and out of tins; free street lights "that burned till morning," but, best of all, to free schools! Great was the disappointment when they learned that they could not go to school at once. "What a loss of precious time—from May till September!"

After four months in school Mary wrote a composition about snow that was considered good enough to print in an educational journal. For the first time the little girl learns the meaning of the word "my country." She had reached the "Promised Land."

CONTEST WORTH SEEING.

East Providence Naval Reserves Football Team to Play Newport.

The East Providence Naval Reserves football team, which will play the Newport Reserves at Wellington park Sunday, are coming here accompanied by two motor-driven busses, with a rooting squad to try and cheer their men to victory. Both teams are practiced up to the minute as the outcome of the game, whoever may be the victor, means a good deal in their standing in the football community in the state.

The visitors are to bring the fastest independent team ever organized in the state, whose goal line has not been crossed in two years and whose back field will be made up of the following well known men: Sylvia and Coffey at the half, Evans at full and Tingley at the quarter. They will be opposed by the local back field, made up of Williams and Halley at the half Finnergan at full and Ray Carr at quarter.

Both teams use open plays and formations and it can be seen that it will be a contest worth witnessing, for every inch of the ground for both sides will be hard fought. Wellington park has been put in good condition for the game, being all marked off, new goal posts being put up and the side lines roped off, to give people a good view of each play as pulled off.

The following movements of vessels are reported:

Arrived—Annapolis at Guaymas, Caesar at Guantanamo.

Sailed—Nanshan from Guaymas for San Francisco; D-1, D-2 and D-3, from Norfolk on a cruise.

The flag of the commander-in-chief of the Pacific reserve fleet has been transferred from the Charleston to the Colorado.

SUFRAGE IN CALIFORNIA.

Miss Alice Lee Describes Conditions Since Women Secured the Vote.

At the meeting in the Channing parlors Friday afternoon Miss Alice Lee of Boston, who is visiting the Misses Mason on Rhode Island avenue, spoke on the conditions in California since women secured the vote. The audience was large and representative and frequently applauded the speaker, who was introduced by Professor John W. Burgess.

Professor Burgess said woman suffrage as well as other questions must be tested by experiment and experience. Miss Lee, an earnest student of politics and economics, spent 10 years in California and was prepared to give a plain, impartial, truthful statement of the effects of woman suffrage on laws, morals and manners.

In opening Miss Lee spoke of the absence of knowledge of conditions under woman suffrage in the free, not the "wild and woolly," West. Typical New Englanders like Professor Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard, who go to California, are impressed by the responsive audiences and the remarkable calibre of the people, many of whom have come from New England. Miss Lee was the last person who desired suffrage, since through a residence in Washington, during a Democratic and a Republican administration, she saw that the women who understood must lead the way.

Miss Lee was in California through a national and a civic campaign, the women doing more than the men in the latter. She has learned that under woman suffrage the sturdy middle class, the best element, votes and that the women of the red light districts do not register. Some women who are much interested in bridge whist also do not register and vote, often much to their regret when the best man is not elected.

The speaker said women in general desire to know what is meant by constitutional amendments proposed, and study these amendments more than the men. California is much like rural New England, hundreds of women doing their own housekeeping and the families living on $1,000 to $1,500 a year. Politics is a subject of conversation in all families at dinner, and in that way the young people become well versed in the subject. Husbands and wives are absolutely separated politically in many cases. The socialistic women work with the other women and often are the best candidates for office.

Miss Lee spoke of the desire of California to receive immigrants throughout her length of 800 miles, rather than have them segregated in the large cities and refuted several statements made by Miss Chittenden, who said woman suffrage is a failure in California, that women are not voting and thereby are adding to the indifferent electorate. Since woman suffrage was granted in California the expenses of the state have not been increased and through the cooperation of women free text-books, a public utilities commission, a civil service commission, etc., have been secured. Miss Chittenden said that through women 31 commissions at a cost of $1,000,000 had been formed, the truth being that six have been established at a cost of $10,000.

Through the influence of women on political life the women's pension bill, the health certificate before marriage, the red light injunction bill, the minimum wage commission and the eight-hour law for women, have been secured.

In answer to a question, put by Rev. William Safford Jones, about the alleged abuse of the initiative and referendum in Oregon, Miss Lee, "a convert to suffrage by force of circumstances," as she styles herself, said all new things are likely to be overdone, but in the long run the common sense of the country can be trusted.

At the close of the meeting Professor Burgess extended the thanks of the audience to the speaker.

MOORE'S FINE RUNNING.

Yeomen Score 45 Points in Athletic Meet at Training Station.

The yeoman class at the Training Station easily vanquished the Constellation guard and the apprentice seamen in an athletic meet at the Training Station last evening, the final score being 45 points for the yeomen, 14 for the apprentice seamen and 2 for the guard. The meet was held under the auspices of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association, Physical Director Conahay having charge. The summary follows:

Running high jump—1, Davis, apprentice seaman; 2, Pfersitick, yeoman; 3, Dodge, yeoman; height, 5 feet 4 inches.

Shot put—1, Flannery, yeoman; 2, Soister, yeoman; 3, Baker, Constellation guard; distance, 39 feet 7 inches.

75-yard dash—1, Lipsehitz, apprentice seaman; 2, Lucky, yeoman; 3, Woovers, yeoman; time, 8 2-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—1, McDonald, apprentice seaman; 2, Cuff, yeoman; 3, Hamilton, apprentice seaman; time, 60 2-5 seconds.

880-yard dash—1, Moore, yeoman; 2, Abrams, yeoman; 3, McDonald, apprentice seaman; time, 2 minutes 16 2-5 seconds.

One-mile—1, Moore, yeoman; 2, Pfersick, yeoman; 3, Peeley, Constellation guard; time, 5 minutes 6 4-5 seconds.

One of the features was the fine running of Moore of the yeoman class, who won the 880-yard dash and the mile in excellent time. Moore recently ran a mile on the Army and Navy track in 5 minutes 16 seconds, and this was considered good, but he seems now to have recovered his usual form, and a great deal can be expected from him the coming year. His time for the 880-yard dash is also exceptionally fast.

THE MARSDEN J. PERRY HOUSE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsden J. Perry are entertaining a large number of guests at "Bleak House" over Sunday, to celebrate Mr. Perry's birthday anniversary. They include Senator and Mrs. LeBaron B. Colt, Miss Colt, Colonel Samuel Pomeroy Colt, Judge and Mrs. William W. Doughs, Professor and Mrs. William MacDonald, Colonel and Mrs. Samuel M. Nicholson, Mrs. G. C. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. William Beresford of Providence; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ward Greene and Mr. and Mrs. Barrows of Worcester, Mr. and Mrs. A. Duer Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swarthout, Dr. and Mrs. Francis C. Watson Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Chadbourne, Elisha Walker and William Paris of New York and Mrs. William A. Campbell of Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Perry will give a dinner this evening for 50 guests, Hallowe'en decorations being used.

BOYLE TAKES OUT PAPERS.

His Action Taken to Mean That J. B. Sullivan Will Not Run for Mayor.

Members of the Council Admit Dodging Votes for the Sake of Business Interests.

There seems to be a little more action in the way of nomination papers, and now that November has come there will probably be more. As there are just four weeks before the election there must be some hustling, but it looks as though enough papers would be in to give the voters a large choice.

There will be no walkover for mayor, for Friday evening Former Mayor Boyle's papers were out and were being signed, so that there will be a contest. This was expected. As the News said Friday, both Messrs. Boyle and John B. Sullivan cannot well be candidates for mayor, and the taking out of papers by Mr. Boyle, "who would never run again," is taken to mean that he has been able to rally sufficient strength to impress Mr. Sullivan with the idea that he would better hold his seat in the house of representatives in Providence, and help Mr. Boyle to be elected for at least another year.

Alderman Kirby has taken out papers, so have Vernon B. Anderson and Henry T. Murray of the Second ward and Jeremiah F. Donovan of Bachelier street for the Fifth.

The Democrats have given notice that they will hold their caucus for the election of a city committee and the nomination of ward officers Monday, November 10. The Republicans had already selected Tuesday, November 11. The new ward lists will be printed November 6 and the city clerk will have some hustling to do to mark them for the caucuses. In addition to the caucuses of the two parties, which being on printed lists are easy, there are the Progressive nomination papers of the last campaign, which are not so easy.

Nominations of supervisors must be made by the two city committees in time for election by the Board of Aldermen at the next canvass meeting, November 20.

That men are elected by the citizens to represent them in the city government and not to dodge issues seems to be an opinion which many have been quietly nursing but saying little about until they read Friday's News, and now some of the members have the courage to admit that they have been "ducking" because they could not afford to do otherwise. Since the question has been raised about men seeking honors at elections with the intention of being good fellows and treading on no one's toes there are some who say they will be glad when their term expires, because they claim they cannot afford to take a public stand in the protection of their own property interests as stockholders in the municipal corporation. They say they must be with the politicians who control city affairs or their business will suffer. They do not admit that they sought office with the hope that, being in the Council, they would enjoy some sort of city patronage which would be to their profit.

It is known that many men who have been members of the Representative Council have been disappointed in their ideals when they have had the screws put on them, and just at present some who have not voted with Dr. Beck are speaking about his bravery in being so outspoken. Men who did not vote for the resolution are saying "on the quiet," that they know personally that some of the things which he said are trite. They also admit that they have voted with leaders when they knew the leaders were stating untruths in their arguments and that the arguments were against the best interests of the citizens.

The News statement that 20 members of the Council "ducked" on the recent vote has caused one taxpayer to ask for the names of those who have dodged issues this year; he had failed to note that anything of the kind was going on in that body. He was informed that if he had read the News he would have had the opportunity to note these things. With him it was the same as with others frequently; they read of things which are going on in city affairs and forget them, and then when something comes up they express great surprise.

The News during the present year has published columns of matter in reporting the meetings of the Representative Council and the Board of Aldermen, and the public has been given the opportunity to be informed if it desired. The aldermen have had a memorable year, and if ever a city body earned its money by considering matters before it they have done so. The board has taken action which undoubtedly many consider wrong, but as one of them remarked recently no man is so perfect that he does not make a mistake, except the one who does nothing. There is yet considerable time for the filing of nominations for the board and there will probably be no uncontested places on the ticket, but how many candidates there will be, other than the present members, it is now impossible to intimate.

MR. WILLIAMS ADMITTED TO THE BAR.

Mr. William Williams of this city successfully passed the recent examination for admission to the bar of Rhode Island, for the practice of law. He is well known in Newport, having studied in the law offices of Colonel Samuel R. Honey, Charles H. Koehne and Frank F. Nolan, and is a member of the Representative Council. Only nine of the 22 young men who took the examinations were successful, and among the number was Richard Steers Aldrich, son of former United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich.

BOILER AT DESTINATION.

Will Add to Temporary Heating Plant at the Naval Hospital.

The big boiler has reached its destination, the grounds of the naval hospital. This is more of an event to the inhabitants of the Point than residents of other sections can appreciate. It is an old naval boiler, which is to be used this winter to add to the temporary heating plant which still does duty at the hospital. Last winter to keep the building warm and help dry it out perfectly the temporary heating plant used by the contractors was secured. That is still there, and this big boiler, which with attachments weighs about 20 tons, is now alongside and will aid it.

A hospital must have heat if it does business in latitude 41.29 north in winter, and so the big boiler was sent here. The power house, which eventually will furnish heat and power for the hospital, is yet to be built. The foundation is there and it is understood that the contract has been given for a brick chimney 160 feet high, but neither of these facts will furnish much heat—on a night like Friday, for instance.

WHY BOOKER WASHINGTON WASN'T THERE.

Booker T. Washington, who was expected to address the Rhode Island Institute of Instruction Thursday evening, arrived in Providence Friday, ready to keep his engagement. He had a letter, signed by an official of the Institute, which read: "You will be expected to speak in Providence on Friday evening, October 31." Attached to this was a carbon copy of Mr. Washington's reply: "I will be in Providence Friday, October 31." Some one evidently blundered in making up the program.
